Beliefs

Karma

As you practice the Clearing Process, there may be occasions where the challenge or problem doesn't seem to clear. All that means is that it's in a deeper level. Be patient with yourself as you begin to use this process, it may take longer than your mind expects.

Remember, these issues are held in the “Uni” - the subconscious mind, and your subconscious is just like a child. So be kind to this part of you and the feelings you feel.

Your Uni holds the keys to your passions, your energy, and your emotions.

As you shift your intent from “trying to get rid of” old feelings, behaviors and results to accepting, embracing and even loving what shows up in your life, your entire life will transform.

Blessings of Abundance To You,

Paul
